

5th & Alton Retail Center Receives Top Honors in "Best of 2010"

Crawford Tracey provides glazing for Miami retail center, receiving top honors in Southeast Construction Magazine "Best of 2010".

Deerfield Beach, FL (PRWEB) October 27, 2010

The 5th & Alton Retail Center in Miami was the top winner for retail projects this year in Southeast Construction magazine's Best of 2010 awards. This annual competition recognizes construction and design excellence in the four-state region that includes Florida, Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

Crawford Tracey Corporation, a leading Florida glazing contractor specializing in unitized and pre-glazed curtain wall, was selected as the glazing contractor and window manufacturer for the project.

"This project was a great example on how Crawford Tracey was able to provide a custom glazing solution for the building owner while meeting the budget and timeline of the general contractor," says Ray Crawford, CEO of Crawford Tracey.

The glazing system is Crawford Tracey's "ProTech" series, offering Miami-Dade County approved large missile impact protection. The glass includes a Low-E coating from Viracon, offering enhanced energy efficiency.
